>Watching him was easy, he never noticed me, he was to busy. He was amazing, in every way, but I could never match him. He flew to high for me to reach. Astrid held onto every young guy in this villiage, Snoutlout, Fishlegs, Hiccup, and Tuffnut.

Ruffnut and I never stood a chance, Astrid took Hiccup from Ruff and then dropped him with a snap of her fingers, and Ruff was able to pick up his heart and piece them back together. It was funny watching him turn her down everytime I laughed she glared at me. Once he looked at me and smirked, but I knew he would never really look at me, so I turned away.

Ruffnut talked about Hiccup everytime we hung out, and my heart ached as I looked at him praying to every god and goddess to just make him look back.

I was so close to finally giving up when he walked over to me while I was tending my Changewing. I blushed and tried to hide it behind my waist length light carmel color hair. He brushed it behind my ear, then cupped my face, he smirked and leaned in whispering something I couldn't make out onto my lips as I shuddered.

He kissed me then and I felt my knees give, but he didn't let me fall.

Maybe, just maybe we could fall in love.

Maybe, I could beat Astrid, and know I going to do _everything_ in my power to make sure I got him.
